A Record-Breaking Sale

Monday and Tuesday Are to Be Notable Bargain Days

We are facing, in tomorrow and next day, two of the biggest days of the season last spring. Why, is of little moment. But to satisfy an ambition that is always striving to out-do past efforts is the task in hand. So we have arranged for a two days' sale that will eclipse any precedent in the variety and values offered—and should realize the end we have in view—"hands down."

These are all arbitrary bargains—selections from regular stock—of the most needable things qualities you are assured of-at prices that have been summarily reduced-as a sure means to a laudable end.

The sale will begin Monday morning---and positively end Tuesday night---after which regular prices will be restored.
